Governance

The LCMS Foundation is an independent corporation, chartered in the state of Missouri in 1958. The Foundation is governed by a 12 member Board of Trustees, who are LCMS leaders from around the country. Board members can serve up to four three-year terms.

The Foundation's financial statements are audited annually by Brown Smith Wallace who also reviews the Foundation's monthly fund pricing process, to document and verify its accuracy.

The Foundation's 60 members, who meet annually, elect a majority of the Board of Trustees. The Foundation's members include one member from each of the 35 LCMS Districts; one member from each of the Concordia Universities; one member each from the seminaries and other LCMS entities; and five at-large members appointed by the Synod.

Foundation investment PHILOSOPHY

The LCMS Foundation has developed its investment philosophy in conjunction with investment advisors. This philosophy is based upon a set of factors which have a widely accepted theoretical basis.

- 1 Long-term: Investment objectives are achieved through prudent risk management.
- 2 No market timing: It is very difficult to time market cycles. Investment strategies will predominantly focus on processes which do not incorporate market-timing activity.
- 3 Reversion to mean: Capital markets are mean reverting over long periods. Investment strategies will be long term in nature.
- 4 Active and passive: Some markets are efficient while others are less so or inefficient. Investment strategies will reflect a mix of active and passive investments.
- 5 Manage costs: Costs have a meaningful impact on returns. Investment strategies will favor cost effective approaches.
- 6 Asset allocation: The most significant impact on investment results. The Foundation will focus the majority of its efforts on the development and maintenance of asset allocation strategies, which will optimally fulfill investment objectives.
- 7 Fundamentals: Valuation and analysis based upon fundamentals generally produce superior return/risk results.
- 8 Performance: The diversity of the Foundation's clients calls for product offerings that favor consistent performance relative to market benchmarks.

The Foundation uses both separately managed accounts and commingled funds in its investment portfolios. As part of its fiduciary responsibility, the Foundation imposes investment restrictions on managers of separately managed accounts and closely monitors the investment practices of managers of commingled funds. Rebalancing of investment strategies will be undertaken as needed to ensure the optimal investment structure is maintained despite market shifts.

With the assistance of its investment consultant, NEPC, the Foundation has established a variety of investment options in order to meet the specific investing needs of a wide range of clients. Please visit www.lcmsfoundation.org for more information.

Building BLOCKS

RISK & RETURN CHARACTERISTICS

When accepting more risk for potentially more return, a long-term investment perspective is recommended.

Portfolio MONITORING

The Foundation works continually to ensure that its assets are invested in conformity with established portfolio targets, and to ensure that portfolio return goals are being met. The Foundation and its partners perform ongoing monitoring of its investment portfolio as outlined below:

Daily

- Foundation Staff and investment advisor NEPC continually review market activity in the Foundation's investment accounts.
- Activity in these accounts is handled by 16 external fund managers, hired by the Foundation to trade stocks and bonds each day in financial markets on behalf of Foundation account holders.

Monthly

- The Foundation's investment committee meets monthly to review the long and short term investment results for each of the Foundation's external fund managers, and all of the investment funds offered to its account holders.
- NEPC performs a monthly report comparing the Foundation's investment performance to market indices.

Quarterly

- The Foundation Board of Trustees' Investment Committee meets quarterly with NEPC and Foundation staff to review investment performance, and to consider any possible changes to the portfolio.

Annually

- The Foundation staff meets with each of the external fund managers to review fund performance, and adherence to investment guidelines.
- The Foundation Board of Trustees reviews the Investment Policy Statement annually, modifying it as needed.
- Foundation members receive the auditor's report at the annual meeting, and the annual ministry report as well.
- The Foundation's financial statements are audited by an outside CPA firm.

The Foundation's assets are held in custody with U.S. Bank, an industry leader for asset management. U.S. Bank is one of the largest commercial banks in the United States with more than $400 billion in assets. www.USBank.com

Endowment templates are available from the Foundation upon request.
